

INQUIRIES MADE AS TO BACHELORS

THE MAIDENS WANT TO KNOW ABOUT ELIGIBLES NOT IN THE FIRST LIST.

WE ENDEAVOR TO AID THEM

Numerous Letters Are Received and Are Being Given Our Careful Attention.

When our marriage editor conceived the idea of putting all the eligible bachelors before the eyes of the rest of the marriageable public he opened his mouth and put his foot into it. He's in deep now and nothing short of Beatrice Fairfax will ever save him from complete demolition.

Since the publication of our first compendium of information we have been subjected to a deluge of letters from inquiring maidens who desire to know something about someone. Not being able to answer them all in person, it is thought best to present their inquiries and the editor's suggestions to the public and give everyone a fair chance. This much is certain, were we to fail to give some sort of attention to these numerous inquiries which have been shot at us, we would have to marry the whole bunch to keep them quiet. Remember, this information is not intended for the use only of the inquiring maidens, but may be absorbed by any and all to whom its feeble intelligence will be of any benefit. No thanks are desired. It is all in the philanthropic work of a life-time, and we couldn't think of asking remuneration for our services in aiding and abetting the schemes and wives of the maiden ladies who ought to be married, but can't get around to it.

Following is a partial list of letters received to date:

Marriage Editor: You forgot Frank Stephan. Please advise.

Maudie Wantaman. No, Maudie, we didn't forget Mr. Stephan. We remembered him, and that's why we left him out. He's got a bigger punch than we have. See? Anyway, he is certainly a promising candidate, a banker of good repute and excellent habits. Make a try for him.

Marriage Editor: Why did you omit Mr. James E. Law? Isn't he eligible?

Genevieve Olemade. Certainly Mr. Law is eligible, Miss Olemade. But we regret to state that he is not a candidate. Hard luck, old girl.

Marriage Editor: You carelessly left out Dick Bovey. What are his accomplishments?

Laurilene Askit. We are sorry we missed Dick, but since we are not publishing a magazine we cannot list his accomplishments. He has a greenhouse, and a fine dainty rig. It would be a good plan to askit—pardon us—ask him.

Marriage Editor: Clyde Smith was lost in the shuffle. Put me wise.

Thelma Phalzeta. Mr. Smith is an attorney at law, of distinguished appearance and courtly manners. A graceful dancer and brilliant conversationalist.

Marriage Editor: Please forward instructions in regard to Earl Buck.

Georgiana Single. Mr. Buck speaks for himself. Georgiana will have to hurry to beat the rest of the bunch to it.

Marriage Editor: I am in doubt about Frank Philpott.

Madeline Krossey. There is no doubt in our minds Mr. Philpott is the gold medal winner of the second division. Reserved and dignified, the gentleman in question would do credit to any girl.

Marriage Editor: You escaped Paul Baker. What's the dope.

Jennie Hareless. A diplomatic move may land this prize. He is manager of the Central Union branch and may even now be considering offers.

Marriage Editor: Kindly inform us in regard to Frank Cahill.

Maye Phortyod. With pleasure. He is small in stature, but a large man mentally. Capable of handling large matters and would make a perfect manager of a new combination. If he were made half partner.

Marriage Editor: Give me the inside track on Harry White.

Magdelene Krofete. This is not a horse race, Maggie. Mr. White won't run away at all odds. He is superintendent of the Watson-Plummer factory, owns a yacht and a summer cottage. Would drive well double.

Marriage Editor: Can you recommend Wesley Winters?

Helen Waspwaste. Yes, if he'll stand still long enough. He has a Southern accent, light haired and a breezy conversationalist. May be induced to join.

Marriage Editor: We would like to know about Wilson Ankeny.

Eleanor Bignoze. Mr. Ankeny has no dark secrets, Nell. Handsome in appearance and very mannerly in conduct; of a kind and loving disposition and possessed of the characteristics of a model husband.

Marriage Editor: Kindly file a declaration in the case of John S. Dornblaser vs. Unmarried Ladies, et al.

Sophronia Blackstone. Mr. Dornblaser has never secured an injunction against Cupid, so far as we know. Further, no praecipe for summons has ever been filed in the above mentioned case, and it is our opinion that the demurrer has been overruled in a previous case. Attachment proceedings should be started.

Marriage Editor: Is there any chance to get Guy Miller?

Lillian Lusejoynt. Hard to tell, Miss L. The proposition looks good and there is certainly nothing to be lost. So get busy.

Marriage Editor: Would appreciate a hunch on Bert Preston.

Priscilla Piginto. You are a trifle late, Miss Piginto. Mr. Preston has been booked for some time. Try and buy his release.

Marriage Editor: Kindly quote on R. P. Roseberry. Is it safe to buy long?

Marcella Ainshent. Madam: We are not running a future book, so we can't quote odds. Even money is a good bet in this case. As for "buying long," as you say, decidedly, no. It is not safe to buy long unless you have the long—green. But that has nothing to do with Mr. Roseberry. The gentleman has a thriving brokerage business, and would make a fine helpmeet.

Dear Sir: You failed to list Harry Teachout. Marjorie Longfase.

Mr. Teachout is a railway mail clerk, popular in Elk circles and among other rounds, handsome in appearance and of a pleasant bearing. The fortunate girl wins a prize.

Marriage Editor: Has Carl Brown been married recently?

Sybil Sephenty. Mr. Brown has not been married recently, nor previously, if we remember correctly. A young man with good business prospects, pleasant manners and the making of a good husband in him. The winner can have only the best of wearing apparel.

Marriage Editor: Have you any line on Harley Cortright?

Miss Giddewun. We have no line on Mr. Cortright and it don't seem advisable to try to string him. By assiduous application someone may win him, and in doing so would provide for a life partner whose equal would be hard to find.

Marriage Editor: I am interested in George Shaw.

Thelma Thinnneck. A very commendable subject to be interested in, Miss T., but don't you think it advisable to give him a little more time

Communications have been received regarding George Allemand, A. R. Buzzell, W. J. Schreiner, E. C. Fuller, Glenn McLaughlin, Elmer Shaner, Will Ford, Pearl Osborne, Charles P. Hennessy, William Tague, Thomas Young, Seavey Moeller, E. L. Unson, Clark Rickart and George Smith. Our private detectives are at work on the cases of these gentlemen and it is hoped that we will have a report before long. Certain it is, all the men mentioned are eligible, and desirable, and possibly suitable for some girl. It is a case of pay your money and take your choice, and the early bidders get the acceptances.

An Afterthought.

It has been suggested that for the benefit of the bachelors we treat them as we have treated the girls and give the trembling men ample warning of the nature of their pursuers. This would necessitate speaking individually and collectively of the maiden ladies of the city, and might occasionally force us to make reference to ages. Therefore it is with regret that we respectfully decline, and hope a satisfactory explanation of our refusal will be found in the simple statement, "Our hair is real."

WAIT FOR VOTE ON TOWNSHIP SCHOOL

SCHOOL BOARD WILL PROBABLY DELAY ITS ACTION FOR THE PRESENT.

WILL LEARN DESIRES OF PUBLIC

Many Who Signed the Petition Presented to Board Reconsidering Their Action.

At a meeting of the South Side board of education held last night the petition requesting the board to erect the new building on the lot with the Red Brick building was referred to a committee, the members of which were selected by President Countryman. The names of the members of this committee who now have the petition to consider will not be divulged by any of the members of the board.

The committee promises, however, to give the petition due consideration, but if the committee does work like some of the legislative bodies, the people will probably not hear a report for some time to come.

It is current that the majority of the patrons of the district, and it might be well to add that the majority of the signers of the petition do not now wish the new building on the Red Brick lot.

The board is composed of men who are competent to transact the business they have to look after with a degree of carefulness and as all are men of excellent judgment it is expected that they will do the correct thing. It is hinted that the board will proceed slowly until the people have an opportunity to vote on the township high school proposition, which will be in about two months, and then there will be time for taking decisive action.

IS PLANNING A EUROPEAN TOUR

DR. BARTON WILL CONDUCT A PARTY OF ILLINOISANS NEXT SUMMER.

The Mayflower party, organized for delightful and economical travel in Europe the coming summer, will be under the personal conduct of Rev. Wm. E. Barton, M. D., the noted clergyman of Oak Park. Rev. Barton is an Illinoisian by birth, his home when a boy being in Sublette, where his father, Dr. J. B. Barton, a highly respected citizen, still resides. Any of our readers who are contemplating a trip to Europe the coming summer would do well to communicate with Rev. Barton and learn his itinerary and other information.

AMBOY TO LIMIT

SALOONS TO FIVE
Amboy, Feb. 6.—Special.—City Attorney P. H. James has been instructed to draft an ordinance, to be presented to the city council at its next session, providing for the limiting of saloons of the city to five. The city at the present time has six saloons.

CLAIM DISALLOWED.

Judge Scott this morning decided to disallow the claim of Frederica Norden against the estate of E. Norden. The hearing on this claim was held Tuesday of this week.

JOHN HENNESSY WAS INJURED BY FALL

As a result of stepping upon a spot covered with slippery ice John Hennessy of North Dixon, fell and was seriously injured at his home on East Chamberlain street last evening. Mr. Hennessy was unfortunate enough to step on an icy step and in falling he struck against a corner of the step in such a way as to sustain an injury of considerable extent.

MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

WILL MEET TONIGHT

The Dixon Medical association will meet at 8:30 tonight in the city hall. A full attendance is desired.

SON BORN.

A son was born last night to Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rhodes of Palmyra.

TUBERCULOSIS STATION IN THE ADIRONDACKS.

The increase of tuberculosis in New York has quickened the efforts of the State Charities Aid association in its campaign against the disease. Backed by a substantial subscription from the Sage foundation, the association has undertaken to organize every nook and corner of the state and to put this organization in co-operation with the local and state health authorities. It is intended to locate every case of consumption and examine and register it. In such cases as it is found possible home treatment will be undertaken. In others the patients will be directed to hospitals for cure. In this way it will be demonstrated to the state legislature that funds should be provided to build additions to the present tuberculosis stations and create a chain of new ones to handle the army that will flock to these places.

COUNCIL MEMBERS NOT TALKING

DO NOT SAY WHETHER THEY WILL CONSIDER HIGH LICENSE FRIDAY.

"If the council is going to take up the matter of high license at its meeting Friday night, I know nothing about it," said Mayor L. F. Edwards this morning. "Furthermore, I have not been conferred with by a single member of the council regarding the question," the mayor continued.

The members of the council are not going to talk for publication and if they intend to bring up the matter at Friday night's session they are keeping very quiet about it.

FORGED CHECKS IN STERLING

SIX CHECKS AMOUNTING TO $239 WERE PASSED BY MARK LANGDON.

Sterling, Ill., Feb. 6.—Mark Langdon of this city was arrested last evening on a charge of passing six forged checks and was given a hearing today and bound over to the grand jury under $2,000 bonds. Being unable to furnish bonds he was taken to the county jail at Morrison.

The checks in the amounts named were cashed by the following parties: Fred Billhorn, Rock Falls, $25; W. Michaels, $42; Ahrens Department store, $44; Fred Stubbs, $53; Hallett & Son, $40; Carolus & Son, $35.

Three of the checks were made payable to Ed Devine and three to Frank Smith, and to all were signed the name of John Markham.

All of the checks were dated and cashed during the month of January. When cashing the check with Hallett & Son, Langdon purchased three pictures valued at $5. He protests his innocence of forgery, but the evidence was sufficient to hold him to the grand jury. Langdon is a brother-in-law of H. H. Wicks of this city.

MRS. JAMES LESLIE

DIED IN CHICAGO

Mrs. James Leslie, a former well known resident of Oregon and one beloved by many friends, died in Chicago Monday and the remains were taken to Oregon yesterday, at which place the funeral service was conducted from the home of the long time friend of the deceased, Mrs. Mary E. Stinson, at one p. m., after which the funeral party went by carriage to Paynes' Point cemetery where burial was made. The deceased is survived by one daughter, Miss Clara Leslie, of Chicago, sons, Robert Leslie of DeKalb and Will Leslie of Dixon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie returned this noon from Chicago and Oregon.

MAYTOWN FARM HOME IS BURNED

IRVIN GROTH SUFFERS A HEAVY LOSS IN A MIDNIGHT BLAZE.

Irvin Groth, a prominent farmer of Maytown, lost his house and all its contents in a fire which started at midnight Wednesday night from a defective flue. The house was a large one and Mr. Groth's loss will be heavy as he carried little insurance. The fire burned so rapidly after it was discovered, owing to the strong wind, that the family was barely able to escape without personal injury and it was impossible to save anything.

INTERVIEW WAS NOT AUTHORIZED

W. B. BRINTON, HOWEVER, WILLING TO EXPRESS OPINION ON LOCAL OPTION.

Editor Evening Telegraph.

Dear Sir: The article in your paper yesterday on the subject of high license for saloons was, in so far as it quoted me, entirely without authority. I am willing to tell anyone who cares enough about it to ask me what I think, but I did not, and shall not, inflict the readers of your paper with an interview on the subject.

Yours truly,

W. B. BRINTON.

DR. RALPH BROWN HAS MADE EXCELLENT REPUTATION IN CHICAGO.

Dr. Ralph Brown came home from Chicago last evening for a visit and will visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Brown, on North Galena avenue, for a short time, before leaving for Helena, Montana, where he will locate. He will become a partner with Dr. Treacy, one of the most successful and prominent physicians of that state.

Dr. Brown is a Dixon boy, having graduated from the North Dixon high school and then studied at Chicago University and Rush Medical college, Chicago. He has been practicing in Chicago for a number of years and has won an excellent reputation as a physician and surgeon there, the eye being his specialty in practice.

STILL EXAMINING WITNESSES.

Witnesses for the plaintiff are still being examined in the Godfrey $40,000 damage case now on trial.

CRAZED BY GRIP MAN KILLS DAUGHTER

GUSTAV WALSTEDT OF CHICAGO THEN SHOT AND KILLED HIMSELF.

M'DONALD CASE DRAWS NEAR END

Believed That It Will Go to the Jury This Week—Firemen Hurt At Racine.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Special.—Gustav Walstedt shot and killed his nine year old daughter this morning and then committed suicide. He was crazed by an attack of the gripple.

DEFENSE CLOSED IN

THE M'DONALD CASE

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Special.—The defense in the Dora McDonald case closed its evidence this morning and it looks as if the case would go to the jury by the end of the week.

FIREMEN HURT WHEN

RACINE CLUB BURNS

Racine, Wis., Feb. 6.—Five firemen were injured and a loss of $120,000 occurred this morning in the burning of the Racine club building.

GOVERNOR OF CHILI

RESCUES U. S. MIDDIES

Punta Arenas, Feb. 6.—Special.—Midshipman H. B. Kelly and four seamen from the battleship Rhode Island capsized while rowing to the fleet and were rescued by Governor Martin in a launch.

The social galleys in connection with the visit of the fleet continue unabated. The squadron sails tomorrow night.

THINKS DIXON AN IDEAL CITY

GEORGE TANNUS, AFTER A RECENT TOUR, STILL STANDS BY DIXON.

George Tannus, formerly a merchant of this city but now of Bloomington, is here for a week to visit friends and transact business. Since his departure from this city Mr. Tannus has been in Washington, Oregon, California and many of the southern and eastern states. He says that he has not seen a city in which he would rather live than Dixon. The young man was reminded that that was saying a good deal for Dixon, but he replied that he meant every word of it.

"HIGH TONED BURGLAR" TONIGHT

COMPANY IS PUTTING ON SOME GOOD SHOWS THIS WEEK.

Last evening the Hickman-Bessey repertoire company presented the "Blue and the Gray" to a good audience considering the weather. The production was well played, the plot being laid in the time the war for the Union was fought. The company is by far the best repertoire company playing here for some time, the scenery is exceptionally good and the costumes are all fresh and new and the women wear some very pretty gowns. Tonight the play is "A High Toned Burglar," one that has never been played in Dixon before. The specialties given last night were excellent; Baby Irene Spooner is a clever dancer and a sweet singer, although very young; the illustrated songs were good, and Miss Grace Baird sang an exceptionally sweet selection, and on being encored made a decided hit by singing "Annie Laurie."

ASK FOR PARDON OF CALEB POWERS

A petition asking Gov. Augustus Wilson of Kentucky to pardon Caleb Powers is being circulated in Dixon and is being freely signed. A petition is at Rowland Bros.' drug store and those who care to may step in and sign it. Powers has been in prison for eight years. The intention of the Illinois committee who have the petition in charge in this state is to get 100,000 signatures.

Attorney Martin H. Eakle of Forreston was here today on probate business.

CEMENT FACTORY STARTS FEB. 15TH

THE FULL FORCE WILL NOT BE TAKEN ON AT ONCE, HOWEVER.

GRADUALLY INCREASE THE FORCE

Until Two Hundred Men Are Employed—Early Spring Will Help Company.

The Sandusky Portland Cement company will begin operations here on February 15. A full force of men will not be taken on at that time, but men will be employed from time to time until the number reaches 200, the necessary quota needed to operate the plant when in full operation. Men will commence on that date to assemble the stone shovel and clean the tracks, and it may be ten or fifteen days after that date before the plant will be running full. The condition of the weather will have something to do with the operation of the plant.

DISCOVERS WINTER

RETREAT OF SNAKES

Bloomington, Jan. 6.—John Ensminger commissioner for the Lima Lake drainage district in Adams county, is on deck with the first big snake story of leap year.

While digging into the side of a hill in order to clean out an old spring he uncovered a small cave which was the winter quarters evidently of all the snakes of that locality. The serpents had coiled themselves into a monster roll several feet in diameter and when disturbed had difficulty in disentangling themselves, thus enabling him to kill most of them.

He killed sixty-nine of them while fully twenty-five must have escaped. The average length of the snakes was five feet with a diameter of two inches. They were of all varieties. Ensminger says that this locality has been the winter quarter of snakes for years.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday morning 10 o'clock, Bible school, J. E. Byington, superintendent. Room for more, fine lessons, interesting service.

Morning worship, 11 o'clock. Sermon on "The Instructive Wisdom of the Eagle." All parents and teachers will be especially interested. Evening service 7:30, at which time the pastor will give a book review and present the thought in Dr. W. J. Dawson's latest and most striking book, "A Prophet in Babylon." He is severe in his rebuke of the modern church and indicates what he thinks is a new way of socializing the spirit of Jesus. It is a much stronger book than "In His Steps," but has much the same thought. The reviewers are giving it wide notice and it will have a large reading. Come and hear about it. Prof. Crain will arrange for special music.

E. E. FISCHER CANDIDATE

ASSISTANT SUPERVISOR

Edward E. Fischer is a candidate for re-election to the office of assistant supervisor of Dixon township. His announcement appears in the Telegraph. The friends of Mr. Fischer are many and they believe that he has made a splendid record as a member of the county board for several terms and desires that he be re-elected. Mr. Fischer is highly respected and is an influential citizen, always willing to do that which will be to the best interests of his township as well as county. He is a man who believes that all civic matters relating to his town should be conducted on the square.

Paul Brookner,

More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves woman from surgical operations.

Mrs. S. A. Williams, of Gardiner, Maine, writes:

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health in three months, after my physician declared that an operation was absolutely necessary."

Mrs. Alvina Sperling, of 154 Cleybourne Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes:

"I suffered from female troubles, a tumor and much inflammation. Two of the best doctors in Chicago decided that an operation was necessary to save my life. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound entirely cured me without an operation."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

OAK RIDGE.

Oak Ridge, Feb. 4.—We were attacked by a blizzard here Friday and Saturday, and the roads are badly drifted.

There are a great many people sick with colds and the grip. Too numerous for personal mention.

Mr. and Mrs. William Guyann who live near Oregon, visited with the former's brother, Thomas Guyann and family Saturday.

There will be preaching at the Oak Ridge church next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

Isaac Fish and his son-in-law, George Reynolds, are marketing rye in Dixon.

Grover Guyann is taking a vacation with his friends near Dixon.

Thomas Brooke of Dixon was on the Ridge Sunday.

Mrs. Jennie Hamilton entertained the Larkins club at five o'clock tea Feb. 2.

James Sadler and John Hamilton weathered the blast and drove to Oregon Saturday.

James Cooper is on the sick list. The ground hog surely saw his shadow and returned.

SIMPLE WASH CURES ECZEMA

Itching, Burning Skin Disease Routed Without Use of Injurious Drugs.

Great inventors often have been praised for surrendering the secrets of their discoveries. Practically the same thing happened in the medical world in the case of Dr. Decatur D. Dennis, the eminent skin specialist of Chicago.

Dr. Dennis, in his own office practice, discovered that pure vegetable oil of wintergreen, properly mixed with other simple remedies was practically a sure specific for Eczema, psoriasis, barber's itch, salt rheum and other itching skin diseases. But oil of wintergreen alone was found ineffective. It required other mild ingredients such as glycerine and thymol compounded D. D. D. Prescription positively takes away the itch at once—the instant it is applied to the skin. This vegetable liquid does away with deleterious drugs so long used in an attempt to doctor the blood, whereas modern science has determined that eczema is first and all the time a skin disease.

If you want to know more about the merits of D. D. D. Prescription, call at our store. We vouch for this remedy.

PORTUGAL PEACEFUL

Cloud of Revolution Seems to
Have Passed by for an Indefinite Time.

DRAMA'S CENTER IS FRANCO

Young King for Him—Queen Amalie
Said To Be Opposed.

Held Him Responsible for the Tragedy
—Good Words for the Boy Monarch, Who Likes Uncle
Sam's Sons.

Lisbon, Feb. 6.—The announced intention of the new cabinet to put an end to repression and restore the "old liberal monarchy" which has existed in Portugal for sixty years has had a soothing and quieting effect on the country. Tranquillity is reported from everywhere in the interior and Lisbon, basking in the brilliant sunshine, seems perfectly peaceful. Troops are less conspicuous on the streets of the city, and if the day of the funerals passes without incident the present phase of the crisis through which the country is passing may be regarded as at an end.

Trouble Believed To Be Ended.
The willingness of Senhor Machado, the republican leader, and the republicans generally to acquiesce in the present situation if their friends are released seems to ensure a return to less strenuous modes of political warfare. Generally speaking another upheaval in the near future is considered practically impossible.

Drama Centers About Franco.

Intense interest is shown in Franco's whereabouts. The drama centers about him, but he remains in seclusion, seemingly crushed in spirit. He declines to see correspondents to offer a defense for his policy and explain his downfall or his decision to retire completely from the political arena. His elimination is regretted by the commercial classes and foreign elements who are convinced that his sole object was the good of the country.

Young King Franco's Friend.

The young king himself believed in Franco. The day after the tragedy, while unobscured himself to a life-long friend, he said: "I intend to retain Franco. He was my father's friend and shall be mine." It is well known, however, that the dowager queen has always been hostile to the ex-pretier, and latterly Queen Amalie shared the view that the dictatorship had been carried too far.

QUEEN ACCUSES FRANCO

Says the Murders Were His Work—
Young King's Personality.

On the day of the assassinations, amidst the confusion of that memorable scene in the arsenal quadrangle, where the royal carriage took refuge, when beside herself with grief, the queen turned upon Franco and cried: "This is what your work has done." The reconciliation of these two utterances with the influences represented is believed to supply the true key to the secret of Franco's downfall.

The young sovereign's personality is described by those who know him as very winning. As a lad he displayed fine many traits. He had considerable artistic talent, especially for music, and like his father was exceedingly fond of outdoor sports, such as tennis, riding and shooting. He was reared with great care by the devoted queen, who took the warmest interest in the education of the prince. The king's tutor tells an anecdote illustrative of the king's gentle nature. As prince he always spoke of the queen as "her majesty." One day, however, he used the term "mother," then he turned to the tutor and said: "I think I like the word 'mother' best. I read last night that the queen was lost in the wife, the wife in the mother."

It will be interesting to United States citizens to know that King Manuel is specially fond of the United States and its citizens. In May, 1904, when he was appointed a naval apprentice a United States squadron under Rear Admiral Barker, then at the Azores, hastened its arrival a few days after the first of the United States minister in order to be present at the ceremony. The prince was overjoyed at the courtesy, and when speaking to Minister Bryan since seldom failed to recall the delight and pleasure he had in the presence of the United States officers.

The commission appointed under the dictatorship to replace the elected municipality officials has resigned. Franco's father was attacked by a tub in one of the principal streets. The king has signed three decrees. One of these repeals the decrees issued by Franco which restricted the freedom of the press, and the others deal with the remainder of Franco's decrees.

Shoots Wife and Son and Leaves.

Menasha, Wis., Feb. 6.—Louis Auklam shot his wife and his son, then disappeared. It is supposed he committed suicide. Young Auklam may live, but Mrs. Auklam's recovery is doubtful.

Would Make Union Labor Immune.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Representative O'Connell (Mass.) has introduced a bill to amend the commerce law so as to except from its provisions all labor organizations.

Senate and House in Brief.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Reveridge delivered an appeal to the senate to adopt his bill providing for a non-partisan tariff commission, a plan which he declared conformed to modern and business ideas on this subject. Following Reveridge's address several Democratic senators spoke briefly on the general subject of the tariff.

Tariff revision and the president's recent special message again were the main topics of discussion in the house of representatives, with the Indian appropriation bill ignored. Payne was the chief Republican speaker. No business was done.

"Mere Man" Is Useful.

New York, Feb. 6.—That hotel men of New York have the right to refuse food and entertainment to women after 6 o'clock at night when unaccompanied by a man was the verdict of a jury in a test case brought by Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, a well-known suffragette, against the Hoffman House Corporation. Mrs. Blatch announced that she would appeal the case and try to obtain a decision in favor of her sex.

Thaw Spends a Quiet Day.

Fishkill Landing, N. Y., Feb. 6.—Harry Thaw spent a quiet day at Matteawan state hospital, having only one visitor, a detective who brought him a message from Lawyer Peabody, of his counsel. Dr. Baker has given Thaw permission to smoke one cigar a day, which he indulges in shortly after supper. Dr. Baker said that Thaw was doing very well.

Brooded Over Killing a Negro.

Bristol, Tenn., Feb. 6.—J. E. Warden, chief of police of Tazewell, Va., committed suicide at Graham, Warden shot and killed Alexander Preston, a negro, on Christmas Day, and it is said that he brooded over this fact until he became mentally unbalanced.

Gray of Delaware

Well Known Jurist, Who Does Not Consider Himself a Presidential Candidate, Is a Foe of All Radicalism—Quiet and Dignified, but a Man With Dramatic Force When the Occasion Requires It.

By JAMES A. EDGERTON.

JUDGE GEORGE GRAY of Delaware insists that there is nothing in his presidential candidacy, and in this most Democrats west of the Alleghenies will agree with him. The political dove that hurls presidential lightning may yet discover that Delaware is on the map, though he has shown a lamentable ignorance of geography so far. For a long time he could see nothing but Virginia; then he got Ohio on the brain and may be suffering from that obsession even at this hour. He never could see the Pacific coast or the Rocky mountains. Of late years he has been utterly blind to the sunny half of the country from Missouri to North Carolina and since the war has refused to look at New England. With such a narrow vision and pigheaded character it is hardly probable that he will know that there is such a state as Delaware. Yet he might say his bolts at much worse places, and, in the language of Tom Reed, he "probably will."

Judge Gray would make a creditable leader for the conservatives. He is the beau ideal of the safe and sane. Throughout his entire life he has fought radicalism in every form. Of an old family, educated in the best schools, correct in his life, intellectual, forcible in debate and with a conspicuous and honorable record, he is a typical statesman of the ancient school, an eighteenth century character in a twentieth century environment.

The good old times—almost, when old are good.

How we do sigh for the virtues of to The Hague, president of the anthracite coal strike commission, old fashioned Democrat and able citizen generally, is the most conspicuous figure in his state, not excepting "Gas" Adickes, and second to Grover Cleveland. He is easily the leader of the conservative element of his party. Despite his quiet and dignified demeanor, he is a man not without dramatic force, as is witnessed by two notable incidents in his career. The first of these occurred in 1880, when Gray was attorney general of Delaware and delegate to the Democratic national convention. For three days the warring Democrats at Cincinnati had been in a bedlam seldom equaled in convention history. The roll of states was being called for the nomination of a candidate for the presidency. Speeches were being delivered that were heard scarcely four seats away. "Delaware!" shouted the clerk in an attempt to make himself heard above the babel. A tall, athletic form arose and shouldered his way toward the platform. Even mobs have an instinct and know a leader. Scarcely had a half dozen sentences been loomed out by the new orator in his speech nominating Thomas F. Bayard than the hall began to grow quiet. The attention was soon succeeded by enthusiasm, and from that hour George Gray, the young lawyer of Wilmington, was a marked man.

The other incident was crucial not only in the life of Gray, but in that of the country. It was in the final hours of the debate on the force bill. For days the Democrats had been talking against the measure, the Republicans to quell a tumult in a convention and quite another to a bill in the United States. When Washington is calling on one side and the people on the other, it takes a pretty big man to be heard above the roar.

Judge Gray is neither so old nor so frisky as Uncle Joe Cannon; he is not so eloquent as Bryan; he is not so globular as Taft, and he is not so full of whiskers and conscious rectitude as Hughes. He never saved waitresses and drank buttered milk, like Fairbanks; he never ran political machines, like Cortelyou; he never defied the lightnings of Roosevelt, like Foraker, and he never walked all over the railroads, like Hobbs Smith and La Follette. Neither has he conducted three cent fare crusades, like Tom Johnson, nor reversed brutal Republican majorities, like Von Hoffman. He never sent grafters to jail, like Joe Folk, nor did things to the trusts, like Philander Knox and Judson Harmon. Possibly it is for these reasons that he does not regard himself seriously as a presidential candidate. Yet he did help to settle a momentous labor strike, and he did render service to industrial and international peace. Moreover, he killed the force bill, as before mentioned—literally talked it to death. These deeds entitle him to respectful consideration.

The man who does his work with as little noise as possible, whose constant concern is not to get into the limelight and exalt himself, who is willing simply, quietly and honestly to stand for the truth he sees, despite its effects on his own fortunes, and with whom character counts for more than place or fame, is still, as he has ever been, the salt of the earth. This does not mean that he is to possess even a semblance of the spirit of the revolutionary or aristocrat. The true man, who sees whole and is public spirited, will be neither. It only means that he is not to be an applause hunter, a self advertiser and a self seeker. The world, and America especially, needs genuine men.

The prayer of this age should be that of the poet:

God give us MEN.

Every forward step of the race has been led by some man who was big enough to forget himself and his party interests and prejudices and who was clear sighted enough to see the truth of a given situation. Such men are moved not by desire for place, but by love of God and man, by spiritual impulse, if you please. That is the sort of divinely led leader this nation wants right now. Outside of any question of party or of this interest or that interest, we need a chief who is not thinking so much of the galleries or of serving a class as he is of keeping true to his own soul and the soul of things. That characterization may not fit George Gray or any other candidate in the field. Possibly it does not—at least wholly. It requires a really big man to meet the requirements. But that does not change the fact that America needs such a man, and needs him in the year 1908.

Man of Sterling Character.

However far Judge Gray may be from this ideal, he at least has shown enough sterling character to make the American public measure and weigh him while choosing his next chief magistrate. There is every indication that the voters are going to scrutinize candidates this year a little more closely than ever before. They owe it to themselves and to the future that they do this. If the parties are not moved by the same spirit in making their nominations, they are looked for some surprises. The presidency of the United States is a big office, the most important on this planet. The people are entitled to a big man for the place, not simply big in words and in popular poses, but big in outlook, big in loyalty to truth and big in soul.

In this year of our Lord every American voter owes it to himself and to his country to attend the primaries and to help in choosing the nominees, then or scrutinizing the tickets still more closely before deciding on his choice in November. It is for the purpose of assisting in the study of the eligible list of candidates that articles such as this are written, and it is with the same object in view that they should be read.

Admired by Men of Affairs.

Judge Gray has shown himself worthy of this sort of study. He is one of the few men that have gained a large support among both capitalists and workmen. His character and record have long won him admiration among men of affairs. His conduct of the coal strike commission gained him support from the laborers.

Judge Gray's opponents charge that he is a reactionary; that he is the candidate of special interests. This is one of the matters that must be scrutinized. Opposed to every kind of radicalism he certainly is. This with him is both a matter of conviction and temperament. On the other hand, no one can charge him with favoritism to special interests in the coal strike decisions. He afterward acted as arbitrator in an Alabama strike where the mine owners even charged him with leaning toward the men.

Judge Gray refused the nomination of the Gold Democrats in 1896. Possibly that is the reason he is still politically on earth.

Personally the Delaware candidate is tall and of distinguished appearance. He is a prodigious worker even at his advanced age of sixty-eight. He has a quiet humor and enjoys a good story. Despite the fact that he does not look upon himself as a possible nominee, Delaware has declared for him, and he has a large following in Pennsylvania and throughout the east. This, with the friendship felt for him in the south, his wide fame as a jurist, a labor arbitrator and an advocate of peace, makes him distinctly a presidential possibility whether he will or not.

PRINTSHOP TROUBLES

They Result in the Temporary Suspension of the Public Printer, Stillings.

Tariff Revision Up in Both Houses—Manufacturers Denied a Special Message—Speaker's Power Assailed.

Washington, Feb. 6.—"To facilitate the investigation now being made of the government printing office" is the substance of the reason given officially for the "temporary" suspension of Charles A. Stillings, public printer, an act of the president who has appointed William S. Rossiter to temporarily fill that position. The report recently made by Dr. G. C. Havemeyer, of the department of commerce and labor, that the cost of printing in the government office had been increased under Stillings' management, and the developments of a house investigation conducted by Representative Landis, that there is "irregularity" in the administration of the office, are the grounds of the suspension.

CHARLES A. STILLINGS.

Developments of the Inquiry.

Landis in a statement says that his committee has been reliably informed that the "Audit System," a corporation employed in the government printing office to install a cost, audit and inventory system, and its auxiliary company, the Audit System Supply company, not only exerted what seemed to the committee an undue and improper influence in the government printing office, but were also interested in the purchase of supplies for the government printing office. It was therefore thought that in fairness to Stillings and to all concerned the public printer should be temporarily suspended pending the result of the inquiry.

Labor Men Have Grievances.

Just as the president's action in suspending Stillings was being announced, a committee of labor leaders of this city called at the White House and presented to the president resolutions adopted by the Central Labor Union here on Jan. 20 last, charging Stillings with violations of the eight-hour law in the government printing office. The president informed the committee of the action he had already taken in the case. Resolutions by numerous labor organizations in various cities charging violation in the government printing office of the eight-hour law, discrimination against veteran soldiers and the widows of soldiers and violation of the civil service law, have been submitted to congress and the president.

REVISION OF THE TARIFF

Republicans to Declare Thereof, Says Payne—Urged Beveridge.

Washington, Feb. 6.—45th houses of congress had a field day of tariff revision talk, to say nothing of other politics in the house. In the senate Beveridge spoke for an hour and a half, and when he concluded his remarks Culberson (Texas) remarked that the senator from Indiana was to be congratulated because in some degree, at least, he had joined the army of tariff revisionists. Beveridge's plea was a vigorous one for a permanent tariff commission, and for the taking of the tariff question out of politics.

In the house Payne was the principal speaker. He roasted the Democrats in true house style and paid his respects to Bryan, who, he said, was wandering up and down the country accusing Theodore Roosevelt of grand or petty larceny "in purloining his ideas." He declared Bryan had written the last three Democratic platforms, "except the one that Judge Parker amended with his famous telegram."

When the time came for tariff revision, said Payne, speaking at the time of the grievance of newspapers against the paper trust, he would be willing to give all these paper interests a fair hearing, and "if necessary for the protection of American labor to keep this duty there, I shall vote to do it. If, however, it is not necessary I will just as cheerfully vote to put white paper and wood pulp on the free list."

Payne charged that the Democratic party is a party of negation. As for the Republicans, he said, they would be at the polls next November with a platform that meant something. They would declare on the tariff question in no uncertain sound. "I don't mind saying today," he said, "that it seems to me they will declare for a revision of the tariff." Republican applause which continued for some time was so impelling the Republicans to the declaration he said, "will be the fact that we need a maximum and a minimum tariff for the purpose of negotiating proper trade agreements with the nations of the earth."

About thirty representatives of the National Association of Manufacturers conferred with President Roosevelt in pursuance of their desire to have him send to congress a special message recommending legislation providing for a tariff commission. After the conference James W. Van Cleave, of St. Louis, chairman of the organization, announced that pledge of entire advocacy regarding the conference had been taken. It was stated at the White House that no special message on the subject of a tariff commission would be sent to congress by the president.

SPEAKER'S POWER ASSAILED

Wisconsin Republican Declares That Cannon "Is the House."

Washington, Feb. 6.—A bitter attack on the rules and power of the speaker was made in the house of representatives by Nelson (Wis., Rep.), who said the power of the house was merged in the speaker. "He is the house," he declared, and I encourage applause. He charged that the business of the country was not being dispatched expeditiously, economically or satisfactorily. He did not, he said, believe in personality or position in "I am speaking," he declared, "of principles, and not of men that are passing."

It was intended, he said, that the speaker should be only a mere moderator, in ordering the representatives of the people their just rights and in securing a square deal. But now, he said, the speaker overrules ruthlessly the rights of his constituents and his own associates as well. The minority, he declared, was not only speechless but absolutely helpless, and as for the majority members they have to obey the will of the speaker. At times, he added, they would break away, but not for long, because they were brought back under the power of the speaker's spell. He said that many of the president's policies were important, but they were no more important than parliamentary reforms in the house.

GREAT FIRE AT PEORIA

PROPERTY WORTH $250,000 GONE

Whole Business Block Feels the Flames—Coal and Iron Plant at Covington, Ky., Wiped Out.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 6.—One of the most disastrous fires which has visited Peoria in many years consumed practically one whole business block on Adams street. It was hours before the fire department could gain control of the flames, which were fanned furiously by a forty-mile wind. The fire is supposed to have originated in the basement of the James McAdams Tailoring company. The total loss is a quarter of a million dollars, and those burned out are the following: The Columbia Phonograph company; the W. W. Kimball piano company; Schelcher & Son furniture; Home Savings bank; Mentor Rosenbloom & Co.; troop G First Illinois Cavalry armory, and E. Strause.

Cincinnati, Feb. 6.—The plant of the Licking Coal and Iron company, occupying the entire block on the Licking river between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, Covington, Ky., is a total loss by fire. The loss is estimated between $175,000 and $225,000. This company was reorganized yesterday after much litigation.

Come After Gotham Speculators.

Montgomery, Ala., Feb. 6.—In a speech to the cotton growers of the state here Governor Comer said that gambling in cotton had been stopped in Alabama, and now he wanted to see "that gambling hell called the New York Cotton Exchange put out of business."

Operation on Miss Harriman.

Baltimore, Feb. 6.—Miss Carol Harriman, daughter of Edward H. Harriman, of New York, was operated upon for ear trouble at John Hopkins hospital. Later Miss Harriman's condition was reported to be satisfactory and a rapid recovery was expected.

Ex-Gov. Mickey Very Ill.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 6.—The condition of ex-Governor John H. Mickey, who since his retirement from the executive office has been seriously ill at his home in Osceola, shows no improvement, and some of his physicians say there is no hope for his recovery.

To Free the Philippines.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Senator Stone (Mo.) has introduced a joint resolution authorizing the president to relinquish control of the Philippine Islands in 1913 upon first securing a pledge from other nations to preserve the neutrality of the islands.

GOOD BLOOD

NATURE'S PROTECTION AGAINST DISEASE

The preservation of health and prevention against disease is almost entirely dependent upon pure, healthy blood; every organ, tissue, nerve and sinew of the body draws on this vital fluid for nourishment and strength. Poisons, humors and germs from various sources often get into the blood, and then this great life-stream becomes a source of infection and disease, instead of a nourishing, health-sustaining fluid. Heredity is likewise an important factor, regulating the quality of the blood. Some persons are born with tainted blood from diseased ancestry, and Scrofula is one of its numerous forms is sure to crop out some time in life. Not only poisons in the blood are responsible for disease, but when the circulation is run down and becomes poor and weak in quality, then we see the effect in a general bad condition of health, such as weakness, sallow complexions, boils, and various skin eruptions. All blood troubles require a tonic and blood purifier, and none other equals S. S. S. It goes down to the very foundation of the trouble, and removes every particle of the poison or impurity from the blood. And not only does S. S. S. antidote the poisons, humors and germs, but it possesses health-giving, tonic properties, which build up and strengthen weak, impoverished blood, and fortifies the system against disease. S. S. S. permanently cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, and all other skin diseases and disorders. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

JUDGE GEORGE GRAY

former days! Fifty years from now our children and their children will probably pine for our virtues or imagined virtues. If they knew the present as we know it—But never mind. Possibly they will be right and we wrong. We are too close to these days to note their excellencies. Our children in retrospect may see and understand what we overlooked.

Judge Gray is of the old school of Democrats to which belonged the Bayards, the Tildens and the Cleverlands. His courtly manners, his kindly and dignified humor and his rigid code of honor are characteristic of a yet earlier day. But his industry, his keen sense of justice, his Americanism, his grasp of fundamentals and his ability to apply them to present day problems—these belong to all time.

At present there are so many kinds of Democrats that they cannot be referred to as a school, but as a university. Yet the opposition has no occasion to fly on the fence and emulate the rooster. There are also several kinds of Republicans:

Rooseveltists, stand patters, old guard and they. But Republicans all on election day.

If Democrats had shown the same tendency, the history of the country might have been different.

But what is the use of raiding the political cemetery to dig up the cadaver of a regret? We have enough to be sorry for without that. Besides, regret is about the most useless, negative and idiotic thing in the world. What is the good of being a slave to the past? Why not forget it and play the busy bee with the flower of today? We are now fighting the campaign of 1908.

A Marked Man.

George Gray of Delaware, fourteen years United States senator, four years United States circuit judge, one of the commissioners that signed the Spanish-American peace treaty, peace delegate

DOUGLAS FOR PRESIDENT.

Has a good old democratic sound to it, and the word Douglas connected with politics takes us back to the fifties when Lincoln and Douglas were political opponents. It is now W. L. Douglas, ex-governor of Massachusetts, that at least one eastern newspaper considers the proper man for the democrats to nominate for president. Douglas in his youth was a shoemaker and to a certain extent appears to be pegging away at his trade. This fact would please democrats "awl right."

With a shoemaker as its candidate several taking legends could be placed upon its banners in a hot political campaign which would be more taking than "coon skins and cider," "log cabins," or "rall splitting." What a taking shillboleth for a democratic banner and war cry would be for instance, "On our uppers," and other reference to the shoemaker.

Of course the Telegraph cannot promise to support the shoemaker, but certainly he would be a lively last chance candidate.

This man who has worked himself up from the shoemaker's bench to considerable political influence might heal up the discords of his party and bring harmony instead of chaos to the party's coming troubles. Such a candidate would be of assistance to daring republican orators of classical bent in oratory who could fearlessly proclaim that they would then and there beard the lion in his den or a "Douglas in his hall."

WHO WILL BELL THE CAT?

The recent visit of Mr. Bryan to Washington has furnished food for a most amusing story concerning the democratic situation, as regards the forthcoming nomination. It was decided among Mr. Bryan's friends in congress that someone should quietly hint to him that he ought to nominate a new man who could poll a larger vote than he could, but when the critical moment arrived at was a case of "you tell him," "no, you tell him," and so on, so Mr. Bryan went away and no one would whisper the word.

What they desired to say to Mr. Bryan was that while they loved him still, they feared he might not be the strongest candidate after nomination, and that he should step aside to permit the nomination of some other man agreeable to him who could poll more votes in election. Many of Mr. Bryan's most constant and devoted friends are in sympathy with the suggestion of his withdrawal in favor of any of several men whose loyalty to democratic principles could not be questioned even by Mr. Bryan.

Calculating upon the confidence which the Nebraska ruler should have in them on account of their loyalty from '98 to the present hour, they believed that they might speak with him without danger of having their motives misconstrued, and that he would listen to them with a willingness to accept their advice. If they could show that their judgment was based on sound political principles. But many other democrats who cannot make claim to the sort of loyalty which these friends of his have proved, are quite in sympathy with the suggestion that he should make a sacrifice in the interests of the party, and they have made this sympathy so manifest with motives which are regarded as suspicious that the Bryan men who were ready to urge his withdrawal have found themselves associated with what they might regard as bad company, and all the plans for plain speaking have failed in quarters that might be expected to be effective. Mr. Bryan himself is suspicious of any suggestion toward his elimination as a candidate, and during his visit to Washington it has been made manifest that this suggestion, even coming from a known friend, would be regarded as an echo from the tongue of an enemy.

It is desired that Mr. Bryan should know it is the judgment of some of his friends that he should not be the nominee of the party in 1908. Some base this conclusion upon the purely personal grounds that he would be in danger of defeat, whereas, if he waited four years, he might be elected and that they do not want to see him defeated the third time. In some instances there can be no question of the sincerity of this position, the men advancing it being most earnest and devoted friends of the Nebraska leader.

As the matter now stands, there is nothing left for Mr. Bryan to do but to plunge headlong before the republican steam roller and get flat, turned out once more, by Big Bill Taft, or Governor Hughes of New York.

RURAL CARRIERS
HAVE TROUBLES

DRIFTED SNOW MADE IT NECESSARY FOR MANY TO ABANDON TRIPS.

NEWS OF THE WEEK IN HARMON

Highway Commissioners Held Meeting in Preparation for Auditing Day—Personals.

Harmon, Ill., Feb. 6.—The snow that fell last week and drifted has crippled the rural delivery out of Harmon. The north and south roads Monday and Tuesday were in many places filled their entire width with drifts from four to six feet deep, making it dangerous for man and beast to attempt their passage.

All the boys started Monday on their routes, but were unable to get through, serving only a portion of their patrons. On Tuesday the carrier on route 1 attempted to force his way through, but after upsetting twice concluded to give up the trip as a bad job.

The work to open the roads Monday and Tuesday was offset by the snow of Tuesday night when the high wind drifted, and none of the carriers attempted the trip Wednesday. The rain and warmth Wednesday reduced the depth of the drifts and the carriers started this morning with the intention of getting the news of the outside world to their patrons if possible.

A few of those dependent upon the Harmon postoffice for their mail before the routes were established, thought rural delivery was a foolish expenditure of money, but these are the ones who are doing the most kicking because a day or two passes without delivery of mail on account of the condition of the country roads.

Board Will Meet.

The village board will meet tomorrow evening in regular monthly session. On account of the disarrangement of train schedules Monday, the regular meeting night, the clerk was unable to return from Dixon in time for the meeting. Nothing but routine business is to be transacted.

Highway Commissioners Met

The Harmon highway commissioners met yesterday to clear their books and business to be ready for auditing day, the last day in March. Considerable business was done in the way of payment of bills, and the matter of making an attempt to keep the highway passable for the mail carriers was discussed and a practical agreement to that end was reached.

The people of Hamilton township, most of whom are dependent upon Harmon for mail, are using their best endeavors to keep the roads passable, as they are even more dependent upon the mail than the Harmon people, on account of their distance from the postoffice.

Personalities.

Eugene Kovatz of Chicago was in the village Sunday and Monday calling on old friends and settling up business matters. Mr. Kovatz was here engaged in farming but is now working at his trade, that of a printer.

Peter Bauer went to Amboy Monday to visit with his friends for several days.

Rev. Thomas Willstead went to Fisher, Ill., Monday on a business trip. J. H. McVey, who during the last month was the station agent for the Burlington here, is now located temporarily at Snaws.

Peter Blackburn was a Dixon visitor Monday.

D. D. Conditine made a business trip to Sterling Tuesday.

Roy Swab is in Rock Falls since Monday with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Swab who are both sick.

Father Smith was a passenger on Monday morning for Chicago where he went to visit friends and relatives.

Sidney Haffenden transacted business in Dixon Monday.

Thos. J. Ryan was in Sterling on business Tuesday.

Conductor Keyes has charge of the Burlington freight run now during Conductor Edwards' illness.

Mr. Edwards' feet were badly froz on Sunday morning while shoveling the engine of his train out of snow drifts.

Walter Heatherington was in Sterling transacting business Tuesday.

The children of E. H. Mannion have been suffering from the effects of croup, la grippe and other ailments prevalent to the changeable weather of the past week.

The revival meetings held at the Methodist church during the past three weeks were concluded on last Sunday evening. There were about 25 conversions.

John M. Fleming of Dixon was a Harmon visitor Tuesday. All arrangements for a good time are completed for the grand Valentine ball to be held on the evening of St. Valentine's day. The Imperial orchestra of Dixon will furnish the music.

Mrs. B. F. Swab went to Rock Falls on yesterday evening.

 DOINGS IN THE
 Y. M. C. A. DEPARTMENTS

Duffy and Gray will bowl at the association alleys tonight.

Director Birch left this morning for his visit with friends at Terre Haute. He will return Saturday.

That seat sale for the Troubadour Amusement company's entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium on Saturday evening is progressing favorably and indications are that there will be a good attendance to witness the program.

STERLING WON GAME.

The Dixon Y. M. C. A. team met defeat at the hands of the Sterling Y. M. C. A. team last evening at Sterling, the score being 28 to 15 against the locals. Somehow or other the Dixon boys did not seem to be able to get going until it was too late to accomplish anything, and despite the frequent relays of fresh men sent into the game, Birch's boys were unable to stop the onslaughts of the Sterling aggregation.

Hogan, the able forward of the Dixon team, was injured during the fray and it was feared for a time that serious results might obtain from the bump the young man received. A number of rooters accompanied the team to Sterling and enjoyed the game immensely.

BACK TO THE OLD WAY

OF BURNING WEEDS

The Illinois Central railway will not renew the test tried during the summer months of last year of killing weeds along the right of way by the use of chemicals. The test, as tried, did not prove a success and the department will return to the old way of ridding the right of way of weeds by mowing them several times during the summer. It required 350 gallons of chemicals for every mile of track and a number of men to operate the spraying machine which made the experiment a costly one. It is expected that the eliminating of the use of chemicals in this way will be applied to the entire system.

THE WHITE MAN'S BURDEN.

Here is a Judge who has gone wild over the Japanese question:

Judge Harlan of the supreme court has startled society and the business world generally by the statement that within the next ten years the world is to see a conflict between the white and yellow races. In the near future the judge sees five million Chinese armed and drilled by Japanese officers marching west to conquer the world. In order to prepare for this struggle the judge believes that the United States ought to spend fifty millions of dollars a year on its navy during the next ten years. Of course there was a time in the past when the Chinese were a menace to Europe. Once an army of Chinese marched as far as Berlin, and would have gone to Paris had it not been for the fact that the Chinese emperor died and the victorious general was forced to return in order to secure his seat to the imperial throne. The army which he commanded kept possession of what is now Russia for many years. However, five millions of soldiers look very formidable on paper, but they are neither hastily gotten together nor handled after they are once assembled.

MISS SARAH A. SMITH

DIED THIS MORNING

Miss Sarah A. Smith, for the past two years a resident of Woosung, died at 5:30 o'clock this morning at the Dixon hospital. She has been at the hospital since September, her trouble being dropsy. Miss Smith was a native of England and leaves a mother and sister in Chicago. She was a member of the Episcopal church and Rev. Walcombe administered communion to her before her death. Arrangements for the funeral will not be made until word is received from her relatives.

Miss Margaret McMaster has gone to Eldon, Mo., to visit with her brother for several weeks.

SPORTING NOTES.

McFARLAND MAY FIGHT POOR BATTING NELSON

Although Batting Nelson failed to fight himself up to a match with McFarland, he has been offered a chance at "Packey," by the managers of the Badger Athletic club of Milwaukee. Immediately after the news of Nelson's defeat came over the wires, the Milwaukee promoters wired an offer to both Unholz and Nelson for a contest with McFarland, to take place this month.

The local lightweight, it appears, is willing to take on "Bat" despite the fact that he repeatedly stated he would pass him up should the Boer beat him. "Packey" longed for a chance at Nelson, knowing a decisive victory over him would bring him within reaching distance of the lightweight championship. McFarland undoubtedly would have received considerable credit had he fought Nelson immediately after he beat Jack Clifford or before he bumped up against Nholz, but a victory over him at present will not net him much credit.

A win over Unholz will make McFarland a stronger card than ever, as would also a victory over Jimmy Britt, with whom the Milwaukeeans are dickering.

RUBE FOSTER BEATEN

Rube Foster, the crack pitcher of the Leland Giants, is spending the winter in Cuba twirling for the Havana team. During a recent game on the island between the Havana and the Almendares, Rube was beaten, 4 to 3, in which two home runs off the colored pitcher turned the tide of battle. In fact he was hit harder than fans are accustomed to see. Not in the number, but in the quality. And not once did Foster fan a batter.

He pitched against Ortega in this particular game, and, according to the Havana Daily Post, was outclassed. The crowd of 7,500 went wild when it saw the noted Chicago man driven from the box. Foster had for his receiver a man named Garcia. Shortstop was anchored down by one Bustamante. Nothing could get through him.

BEEL EXPECTS VICTORY.

Fred Beel, the Wisconsin Hercules who is matched to meet Frank Gotch, America's heavyweight champion wrestler, tomorrow night at the Casino in Chicago, is expected to arrive in Chicago today. Beel writes that he has been working on his farm near Marshfield and will be in perfect trim when he meets Gotch. He is confident of his ability to beat the champion in a match such as the scheduled contest, where Gotch has agreed to bar the toe hold.

Gotch is expected to arrive in Chicago today and will make his training headquarters at the Illinois Athletic club, where he is booked to tackle Charley Olsen on Saturday night in a handicap contest.

HAND VS. MACHINERY

Problem That Is Up to Window Glass-makers—Sliding Scale of Wages the Solution.

Pittsburg, Feb. 6.—Window glass manufacturers operating with hand-blowers plants in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana and Kansas, representing about one thousand pots met here to consider problems with which they are confronted because of competition with plants using the machine-blowing process. They finally decided to meet whenever necessary the prices made by the machine plants through the operation of the sliding scale of wages, under which workers are paid upon the basis of the selling price of their product, which runs until next September.

By that time it is hoped trade will have sufficiently improved that most of the plants now shut down may be operated and the financial problem will have adjusted itself. It was admitted that unless the men agree to abide by the sliding scale and thus enable the hand manufacturers to lower or lift prices as may be necessary some of the plants will have to shut down for the rest of the season.

MASQUERADE AT THE SKATING RINK

There was a very fair attendance at the roller skating rink in Armory hall last evening, and the evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all present. This evening the feature masquerade party will be held and all skaters who attend are expected to provide costume and masks. Only those who are so equipped will be permitted to skate until 9:30, after which hour all will be allowed the use of the floor, and skating will continue until 11:30 o'clock.

DEMENT TOWN DOINGS

Very busy on the avenue this a. m.

J. J. Foster, agent for the Pere Marquette railroad, was here yesterday on business with Ticket Agent Trautman.

The regular meeting of the Order of Railway Telegraphers of the Galena division will be held in Dixon Saturday evening, February 15th.

The election of officers will occur at this meeting. Secretary W. W. Trautman has been busy for several days sending out notices to all of the members.

Clinton McCullough, traveling agent for the Northwestern, was in this city yesterday calling on Agent Flannery.

Frank Journey has resumed his duties as brakeman on the Sterling passenger. He has been ill for more than a week with the grip.

Fred Cox of Geneva was here yesterday calling on his friends.

Ed Devine of Clinton, Ia., was on the avenue Wednesday.

Short one sheep. The question is, was he loaded in the car at Chicago or did he escape enroute. And again did some drayman get him, and forget that he got him? Who will find that sheep?

Fred Humphrey was on the avenue this morning bidding his friends good-bye. Fred left for England and will be gone until about the middle of March. May he have a good time at the old homestead, is the wish of his friends.

Peter McCoy was on the avenue this morning. He said he was after dead ones, but as there were none such on the avenue his stay was brief.

You ought to see Louis Drummond's left eye. It is absolutely the worst looking optic you ever saw. He says he was playing basketball at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium last night and some farmer punched his elbow in his eye. But, Louis says, you ought to see the other fellow.

Louie's friends think he did not get the bum lamp at the gym, but that he got mixed up in some bob sled party—well, the fact is, you can't tell where Louie had the trouble. At least one thing is sure, he was afraid to come home in the dark, for he never showed up at home until 4 a. m.

Jack Hogan got it, too, but on the nose. They say that Jack went up against a weighing machine with such force as to put the machine out of business and peel all the hide off his nose. What a nose—it's as big as a goose egg.

From the looks of some of the Dixon boys the game at Sterling last night must have been a beauty. There are more cripples in the local team than there was in a whole regiment during a battle in the Spanish-American war.

We wonder how the Sterling boys look.

Everybody on the avenue is talking high license.

Birds Shot With Water.
Shooting a humming bird with the smallest bird shot made is out of the question, for the tiniest seeds of lead would destroy his coat. The only way in which the bird can be captured for commercial purposes is to shoot him with a drop of water from a blowgun or a fine jet from a small syringe. Skillfully directed, the water stuns him. He falls into a slumber and before he recovers consciousness is suspended over a cyanide jar. This must be done quickly, for if he comes to his senses before the cyanide whiff snuffs out his life he is sure to ruin his plumage in his struggles to escape. Humming birds vary in size from specimens perhaps half as large as a sparrow to those scarcely bigger than a bee. The quickest eye cannot follow them in full flight. It is only when, though still flying furiously, they are practically motionless over flowers that the best marksman can bring them to earth.—New York Press.

The Feeding of Dogs.
"No dog kept indoors and indeed very few outside should be fed on meat nor should he be fed from the table at mealtimes, as he will soon become a nuisance, especially when there are visitors. If he is always fed at the conclusion of a certain meal—dinner, for instance—he will wait patiently until the prescribed time. It is a good plan to feed after one's midday meal, giving plenty of green vegetables, bread and potatoes, with a very few scraps of finely cut meat, the whole well mixed and some gravy poured over it. If two meals are given, one should be at breakfast time and one in the evening. One should consist of only a little oatmeal and milk or a piece of dry dog biscuit.

"At no time should the dog have more than he will eat, and if he leaves anything on his plate except the pattern his allowance should be reduced or a meal omitted."—Suburban Life.

RESTORING ARID LAND

Significance of Government Irrigation at Garden City, Kan.

TO TAP HIDDEN STREAMS.

If Federal Project Is Successful Other Sections of Dry Great Plains May Be Similarly Treated—Local Industries Already Encouraged.

The experimental application of an irrigation project of the government reclamation service—one which, should it prove its worth in the one instance, will be of importance to the rich, but as yet unfertile valleys of the great plains—will be possible near Garden City, Kan., next spring, according to the estimates of the engineers in charge of the work, says a Garden City correspondent of the Kansas City Star.

To reclaim the abundant acreage of this section of Kansas, unproductive through the lack of water at the very season when moisture is most essential to the raising of the crops, the government is now arranging for the installation of a complex system of pumps and wells destined to supply from subterranean springs and streams in excess of 10,000,000,000 gallons of water for the irrigation of the adjacent country each season.

Since the early days of Kansas this western section had been considered next to worthless and barren because of this very lack of water, which it is now planned to overcome by tapping the supply which is found in the gravel deposits under the great plains at no great depth. The original settlers of the lands in Kansas found that they had taken up claims not worth their pains. They returned east or south whence they had come. Their mortgages lapsed and small and large capitalists as far away as New England found themselves interested in arid Kansas prairie which held forth not even the most vague promise of future fecundity. The land had lain in disuse and disrepute through decades until the development of the sugar beet industry with the aid of irrigation, some years ago, again drew attention to the practically deserted section.

Now the government purposes, by tapping these hidden streams of much needed moisture, pumping it to the surface and spreading out over great areas, to transform what was discarded of the first settlers into a new land of desire for the farmer of the west. Naturally a good deal of public interest in many sections of the country attaches itself to the success or failure of the projected work, more so in view of the eastern held mortgages and the probability of the application of similar methods in other localities in the event of the successful operation of the Garden City scheme.

The reclamation service plans to utilize some of the water in the Arkansas valley, and its plans are unique and unusual. To bring the water to the surface a series of wells has been bored, the aggregate length of which is more than four miles, and pumps which were purchased from Buffalo are to be installed. The project will have 230 wells, varying in depth from 40 to 300 feet and sunk in groups of ten wells, with one pump installed for each group. These wells vary from twelve to fifteen inches in diameter, and it is estimated that each group will yield 6,500 gallons per minute under a fifteen foot head. Each pumping station is connected by suction pipes to a No. 9 vertical centrifugal pump driven by a twenty-five horse power vertical motor. The twenty-three stations will be operated from a central power plant, run by electricity, generated by steam power.

During the irrigation season this pumping system will lift 30,000 acre feet, or 10,775,600,000 gallons. The big ditch which is to carry the vast supply of water to the district to be irrigated is, along with other details of the arrangement, under present process of construction. From this main channel the hundreds of branch lines which will in turn feed the individual ditches are to go forth. The government's work has already proved a stimulus to the settlement of the district and to private enterprise already in Garden City. There has been a jump in land values since the inauguration of the work, and prospects are that the eastern money invested in the original mortgages will yet bring a fair return.

An Aquatic Rabbit.
William Zimmerman, a Postal Telegraph messenger of Dubois, Pa., recently demonstrated that a rabbit can swim when it must, says the Philadelphia Record. Zimmerman caught a rabbit on the island north of the boulevard and took it to the Pennsylvania freight depot. Brer Rabbit made an especially lusty kick and escaped from Bill's infolding arms, fleeing among the freight cars with Bill and several other youths in chase. Headed off on all sides, the little creature dived between the wheels of a moving locomotive and with a flirt of his short tail jumped into Sandy creek, which he swam like a duck, and quickly disappeared toward his home in the rushes.

Wiping Out an Army.
The entire standing army of the Tonga islands has recently been disbanded, it having been decided, says the London Standard, that an army is of no further use in the kingdom. The army consisted of six officers and thirty men.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

PAST AND PROSPECTIVE

Leave your order for engraved calling cards, wedding or reception invitations at this office.

Mrs. Albert Horton of Galena avenue entertained twelve ladies with a thimble party and dinner on Wednesday.

Mrs. Ira W. Lewis entertained the ladies of her neighborhood Monday evening with a dinner.

St. Agnes guild will meet with Miss Christine Squires tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. G. P. Powell, 309 East Third street, has issued cards for an at home Friday, Feb. 14, from 2:30 to 5 o'clock.

The regular meeting of Dorothy chapter, No. 371, O. E. S., will be held tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. There will be work and a social hour.

The annual missionary praise meeting and social of the Presbyterian church will be held at the home of Mrs. M. H. Vall on Friday evening.

Mrs. Nelle Decker Beech will give a talk on her work among the Chinese. The gentlemen are especially and cordially invited to attend.

The pupils of the Sixth grade in the Red Brick school and their teacher, Miss Elma Erb, enjoyed a bob ride around the city last night.

Prof. Kelley's dancing school will be held tomorrow evening at Rosbrook hall and a good attendance is anticipated, as this is the last session for two weeks, the hall being occupied for other purposes.

Mrs. A. E. Taylor pleasantly entertained Prof. Neighbour's Sunday school class at her home on Peoria avenue on Monday evening.

This afternoon Mrs. Paul Dillon is entertaining Mrs. O. B. Blackman, Mrs. C. E. Chandler, Mrs. J. W. Stephens, Mrs. C. B. Morrison and Mrs. J. N. Sterling with a scramble tea.

Today is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Shippert of Nachusa and a number of relatives will surprise them at their home. The surprisers will present Mr. and Mrs. Shippert with a dozen solid silver teaspoons.

The Knights of Columbus of Sterling will give their annual ball and entertainment on Monday evening, Feb. 10. The Troubadours of New York will give the entertainment and provide the music for the dance.

The moonlight dancing party given by the Middlers' club last evening at Rosbrook hall was a most delightful event in every particular, sixty couples attending. The hall was prettily decorated and the Academy orchestra of Sterling furnished, as usual, excellent music. Another dance will be given before Lent by the Middlers.

Keithahn-Wernick.

Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock Ernest Wernick of Dixon and Miss Anna Keithahn of Walnut were united in marriage at the residence of Rev. Father Fegers, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart in Sterling. The ceremony was witnessed by Henry Potts and a number of the relatives of the bride from Walnut. Immediately after the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of Henry Potts. Mr. and Mrs. Wernick left on the 1 o'clock overland limited for California where they will spend the winter, after which they will return to Dixon and make their home.

Mr. Wernick, who is a veteran of company A, Seventy-fifth Illinois volunteers, aged sixty-six years, and Miss Keithahn, aged thirty-seven years, met at the soldiers' reunion at Walnut last year. While seated at the table where Miss Keithahn, who is a member of the Walnut W. R. C., was serving dinner, Henry Potts and Henry Flock of Sterling, commenced joshing Mr. Wernick, who had been married twice previously, as to when he intended marrying again. Mr. Wernick laughingly remarked that he would ask the pretty waitress about it. The laughing remark of the two led to a better acquaintance which was kept up after

Mr. Wernick had left for home. The wedding is the culmination of the romance.

Mr. Wernick is a man of considerable means and ranks high in G. A. R. circles.

Mrs. Luther Newcomer delightfully entertained the ideal club at her home on Monroe avenue yesterday afternoon. This was the first anniversary of the club and a special program was enjoyed. Mrs. Newcomer and Mrs. Kirby Reed gave several vocal numbers and Mrs. Rodney Ayres read a paper entitled "Reminiscences of the Club," which was most original and greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Newcomer served very delicious refreshments and each guest received a pretty favor.

St. Ann's Guild will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Chas. Chandler.

Choirs to Banquet.
The members of the Baptist choir will banquet the choirs of the Presbyterian and Baptist churches tonight. The banquet will be held in the basement of the church and will be served at 7 o'clock.

The Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church will meet this evening with the Misses Woodburn.

Fourteen ladies from Dixon went to the home of Mrs. S. D. Eastwood today and enjoyed a scramble dinner. Tomorrow Mrs. Eastwood will be hostess to a number of neighbors and friends who will also enjoy a scramble dinner at this hospitable home.

About twenty young people enjoyed a sleigh ride to the home of Miss Grace Yoder, two miles north of Dixon, last evening, where a merry time was the lot which fell to each one present. Refreshments were served.

St. Catherine's Guild and Sunday school will give a bob ride tomorrow at 4 p. m. to the children of St. Luke's Sunday school. They will meet at the rectory, Misses Chandler and Edna Woodruff will be chaperones.

There will be a Valentine social Thursday evening, February 13th, at the Ross school, two and one-half miles north of West Brooklyn. A good program has been prepared and everyone is cordially invited. Ladies please, bring baskets with lunch for two. Justus Neighbor is teacher of the school.

Mrs. Vernon G. May's, 418 Galena avenue, will entertain the teachers of the Red Brick school at tea this evening.

Forty young folks are preparing for a sleigh ride to the McClannahan home in the country this evening.

Tomorrow evening Miss Eugenie Smita will entertain the members of her class, the North Dixon high school seniors, at her home, 410 North Galena avenue.

The Dixon club will not entertain members and friends with a Valentine party this year, but are preparing for a party on February 22nd, Washington's birthday, which promises to be a most delightful affair.

MRS. ALICE CHAPMAN DEAD

Rockford Register-Gazette. Mrs. Alice Chapman, wife of Moses Chapman, died at her home, 940 North Winnebago street, at 5:30 this morning. Funeral services will be held at the residence at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon. Rev. Frank Sheets officiating. Burial will be in Burrill.

Mrs. Chapman was a native of Lancaster, Eng., and was born Feb. 28, 1843. She came to this country with her parents when she was a child. They lived for a time in the east and then moved to Winnebago county. Her maiden name was Andrew.

Mr. and Mrs. Chapman were married Nov. 18, 1862. There are two sons, George and Chester Chapman, the latter of Dixon, and five daughters, Mrs. Clara Scott, Mrs. Ada Oliver, Mrs. Alice Hartley, Mrs. Lulu Johns and Mrs. Rena Johns. Mr. and Mrs. Chapman moved to Rockford from Burrill five years ago.

A STEADY DRAIN.

Sick Kidneys Weaken the Whole
Body—Make You Ill, Languid

Sam'l Totten, of Hennepin Ave., Dixon, Ill., says: "I was troubled with disordered kidneys for many years. Continuous backaches bothered me. The worst symptom and the most troublesome one was the fact that my kidney secretions were far too frequent in passage. This was very annoying, particularly at night. The secretions were of a dark color, full of sediment and scalded in the passage and the odor was very bad. I was unable to get relief, and although I tried many remedies I became weak and had to leave my work. Doan's Kidney Pills were recommended to me by a responsible party and I procured a box to try them at Leake's drug store. When I had finished the contents of the first box I felt very much better. I continued taking them and in a very short time all the pains and annoyances had left me and I was completely cured. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills very highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name — Doan's — and take no other.

Chronic Constipation Cured.
One who suffers from chronic constipation is in danger of many serious ailments. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup cures chronic constipation and it aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels, restoring the natural action of these organs. Commence taking it today and you will feel better at once. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is very pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. Rowland Brown

"I trust this may be read by many sufferers from kidney and bladder trouble," writes Mrs. Joe King, of Rowland, Tex. "I suffered four years and could find nothing to give me temporary relief. Our druggist at last induced me to try your 30 day treatment of Pineules for $1. This one bottle has cured me and money could not buy the value it has been to me. Guaranteed. Sold by Leach Bros. If a cough once gets into your system it acts on every muscle and fibre of the body and makes you ache all over. It especially affects the intestines and makes you constipated, so in order to get rid of a cold thoroughly and without delay you should not take anything that will tend to constipate. Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts upon the bowels and there by drives the cold out of the system. It contains no opiates—it is pleasant to take and is highly recommended for children. Sold by Rowland Bros.

Sour Stomach

No appetite, loss of strength, nervousness, headache, constipation, bad breath, general debility, sour risings, and catarrh of the stomach are all due to indigestion. Kodol relieves indigestion. This new discovery represents the natural juices of digestion as they exist in a healthy stomach, combined with the greatest known tonic and reconstructive properties. Kodol for dyspepsia does not only relieve indigestion and dyspepsia, but this famous remedy helps all stomach troubles by cleansing, purifying, sweetening and strengthening the mucous membranes lining the stomach.

Mr. S. S. Ball, of Ravenswood, W. Va., says: "I was troubled with sour stomach for twenty years. Kodol cured me and we are now using it for baby."

W. B. Holley was here today from Franklin Grove on business, with County Superintendent I. F. Edwards.

The Tailor and the College Humorist.
Perennial victims of the humorous paper at Yale are the familiar campus characters, Jim Donnelly, the policeman; Pop Warner, the "teeming expressman," so called because he delivers his goods in an automobile, and Rosenberg Sons, the suit pressers, about whom, in a Pegasus flight of distress at the time of the junior prom, the Record uttered these winged words:

Oh, Rosenberg, dear Rosenberg,
Thy sons we'll never forget.
That suit of clothes,
God only knows,
I'm waiting for them yet.

I'll miss that train. I'll go insane
And rip and tear and fuss.
Just out of reach
There goes that peach
I've missed my chance to fuss.

With this same suit presser as hero, the story is told on a popular professor that in leading chapel one morning he stopped short, leaned over and whispered excitedly to the choir, "What's the name of that song, 'Press On, Christian Soldier, Press On?'" "Rosenberg!" came from a dozen men at once. "We'll sing three stanzas of Rosenberg!" said the leader, with ecclesiastical assurance.—E. R. Embree in Bohemian

The Shoulder Strap.

If it were possible to compile such data it would be extremely interesting to know to what extent women have influenced the uniforms and equipment of their fighting states. A little instance in point is the steel curb shoulder strap of the British cavalry.

When Sir George Luck was setting out for Kandahar during the Afghan operations Lady Luck, knowing probably something of the fighting methods of the tribesmen, whose four foot knife can cut clean from shoulder to belt, sewed a couple of steel curb chains under each of the shoulder straps on her husband's tunic. As a protection from sword cuts these proved so effective that at the end of the campaign Sir George made a report in relation thereto, with the result that they were adopted as a permanent feature of the cavalry uniform.—Harper's Weekly.

Seized Her Opportunity.

He was not a very rapid wooer, and she was getting a bit anxious.

Again he called, and they sat together in the parlor, "just those two."

A loud rap came at the front door.

"Oh, bother!" she said. "Who can be calling?"

"Say you're out," said the deceiver.

"Oh, no; that would be untrue," murmured the ingenuous one.

"Then say you're engaged," he cried.

"Oh, may I, Charlie?" she urged as she threw herself in his arms.

And the man kept on knocking at the front door.—Illustrated Bits.

A Rejection Slip.

"Sir," said the shivering beggar, stopping the prosperous magazine editor on the street, "I have a long, sad story—"

"Sorry," briskly replied the magazine editor, passing on, "but we are only open for short, funny stories now; full of the other kind."—Success Magazine.

No Thanks.

"I broke a record today. Had the last word with a woman."

"Didn't think it possible. How'd it happen?"

"Why, I said to a woman in the car, 'Madam, have my seat.'—Philadelphia Ledger.
